Friday, July 15, 1870.

Why are the People Deprived of Self-Government?

If the bone and muscle and blood and brain of the people of this Colony were different from that of the officials or the favored six who are to be nominated to seats in the next Legislative Council, we could understand that there might be cause for withholding Self-Government from the people. But we know no difference; we can discover no difference; and we maintain that man for man, there is no difference. Why then should the people consent to the inauguration of a Legislative Council of whom only nine are to be elective, and of whom six are to be nominated? What danger to life, property, liberty, or progress, could there be in allowing the six to be elected also? We can see no danger; and danger there is none. It is simply an attempt to keep the honors and emoluments of office in the hands of a certain few—regardless of right or reason. Put the fairest interpretation on the matter, and can any one arrive at a different conclusion? Let every man put the question to himself, "am I not devoted to the support of a government that will protect life, property and liberty?" Is not every man, devoted to the preservation of the same principles? What then can be the grounds for refusing to the people the right to possess a Legislative Council that shall be entirely elective? Is it anything more or less than the possessors of power retaining and refusing to restore to the people their rightful share of power in the government of the country? Is it anything more or less than the clerks, warehousemen, and porters of a mercantile establishment voting their own salaries, and refusing to allow their lawful employer to manage his own affairs? We cannot discern any difference between the way in which Governor Musgrave proposes to constitute the Legislative Council than that of a clerk who prevents his employer from having the entire control of his own establishment. Governor Musgrave is but a servant of the people. What higher authority on earth is there or ought there to be in human government than the people? If there be none, is the act of Governor Musgrave in withholding from the people their full, absolute and rightful control over their own affairs, anything more or less than the exercising of authority not derived from the people of British Columbia, and if not from the people of this colony, can it be, morally speaking, anything more or less than usurpation, though sanctioned by the highest authority in the United Kingdom? There is the pith and substance of the whole matter—the people have to defeat the usurpers before they can have either an Elective Legislature or Responsible Government. To defeat them there must be meetings, resolutions, petitions, and deputations, and that immediately.

The Colonist Delegate.

EDITOR STANDARD:—I see that your popular paper speaks of the gentleman who is telegraphing himself at the expense of the Colonist, as a complete failure. Do you think his opinion is premature? I ask, because your contemporary, whose enterprise is of a personal character, never pretended that Mr. Seely was sent as a newspaper correspondent. Such a pretence would have been too bare-faced altogether. It would be really too absurd to suppose that his mission was to chronicle Mr. Ring's jokes, and the way people keep Sunday in Toronto. To do the Colonist justice, it always advertised him "as the Delegate of the British Colonist," and it may be that he has been very successful. Of course, we cannot tell until the Colonist informs us, what were its terms and the reception they met with at Omaha. Did it expect the Dominion Government to take over the Colonist as well as the debts of the Colony? Or is it to receive an annual subsidy? There may be also other conditions; but an impatient public will have to wait to know them until the arrival of the Colonist Delegate. Should you obtain any information on the matter it is to be hoped that you will inform your numerous readers.

Yours, respectfully,
ISRAEL IN EGYPT.

P. S.—It was rumored in town to-day, that a telegram had been received from Mrs. Johnson, reporting the purchase of a ticket in the San Francisco Lottery by the Dominion Government, and that should it draw the big prize the Overland Railway will be commenced immediately. I.

Waddington Alley.

EDITOR STANDARD:—I see in to-day's paper an item about Waddington Alley being unsafe for horses, &c. I had my leg badly hurt at the corner of Broad and Yates streets, a few days ago. This is not the first time I met with accidents through defective sidewalks, as I had my nose skinned once before. If I ever meet with the like again, I will not only tare it up on the spot, but in front of the Mayor's house. Yours truly,
A CANNIE AULD SCOTCHMAN.
VICTORIA, V. I., July 14th, 1870.

IT is no secret that the Czar is mad—mentally mad—and that he is unfit to reign. He is the victim of a strange illusion. He supposes himself to have murdered his father, Czar Nicholas, who died so unaccountably, and so opportunely, during the Crimean war, and Alexander II. thinks he sees the old gentleman's ghost, and is as much annoyed as Hamlet was when his paternal parent made night hideous by his impolitic practice of revisiting the glimpses of the moon.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY,

ESTABLISHED 1825.
CONSTITUTED BY SPECIAL ACTS OF PARLIAMENT.

THE FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY was held at Edinburgh on Tuesday, the 26th April, 1870.

ANDREW WOOD, Esq. M. D., in the Chair.

THE MANAGER submitted to the Meeting,—
The Annual Report of the Directors and Balance-Sheet of the Company's Affairs.
The Annual Report on the Books and Accounts by the Auditor of the Company, certifying that he had found the whole Accounts accurately stated and properly vouched.

THE FOLLOWING ARE EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT:—

THE PROGRESS OF THE COMPANY DURING THE PAST YEAR HAS BEEN of a satisfactory character, and it is a matter of congratulation that during a period of great distress and dissatisfaction in the Assurance world, the business of this Company has increased, not decreased.

THE NEW ASSURANCE TRANSACTIONS PROPOSED to the Company from 15th November 1869 to 15th November 1869, the Company's financial year, amounted to the large sum of £1,460,807, 2s 9d., contained in 2[illegible] Proposals—of which 407 for assuring £356,520 were not considered eligible, and declined.

THE CLAIMS BY DEATH amounted to £322,137, 11s. 8d.; the number of deaths being 564; and the Bonus Additions to the Policies which became claims amounted to the further sum of £66,649, 10s. 10d.

THE INCOME OF THE COMPANY received during the year ending 15th November 1869, amounted to £710,428, 16s. 3d.

THE INVESTED FUNDS, as shown on the Balance-Sheet, which follows, had reached the sum £4,284,648 7s. 3d.

THERE are the Results of the year; but the following additional particulars as to the Company may also be interesting:—

Who Professed?

In the Colonist of yesterday we find the following allusion to this journal :

"Quoting from the same edition of this journal, our contemporary wishes to know to whom we referred as professing to believe that Canada would consent to this Colony having a Customs Tariff of its own under Confederation? We, of course, meant himself, and the one or two who were found foolish enough to follow him. It will scarcely be necessary for us to state that when he asserts that the 'Hon. J. Robson' advocated that view he states what is false, knowing it to be so! Mr. Robson took every occasion to repudiate and ridicule that view, both in the House and out of it, as being something that the Canadian Government could not entertain."

The following contains an extract from the same journal with our comment on it, to which allusion is made above :

We extract the following from an article in the Colonist of yesterday :

That the tariff of the Dominion would be extended over British Columbia, as a necessary result of union, few, if any, could really have doubted ; although there are not wanting those who do profess to think otherwise. Those who pre-ended to believe that British Columbia would, as a Province of the Dominion, be permitted to enjoy a Customs tariff of its own, could only have aimed at deceiving the people, if indeed, they were not deceiving themselves.

One might suppose from a careless reading of the above paragraph, that the Hon. J. Robson never had been of the opinion that union with Canada could take place, and at the same time continue the British Columbia tariff. But, strange to relate, that distinguished gentleman proposed and moved a resolution that the tariff of British Columbia be continued till the the railway was built. He at least is too pure a patriot to have attempted to deceive the people by moving such a resolution in the Council. Hence we conclude that he has deceived himself.

Now, the only justification that we plead in support of the assertion that the Hon. J. Robson proposed and moved a resolution that the tariff of British Columbia be continued till the railway was built, is contained in that portion of the Government Gazette Extraordinary, dated May, 1870, pages 14 and 15, that was printed at the Colonist office, in which the Hon. J. Robson is reported to have said as follows, in the debate in Committee of the Whole on Confederation, on March 23, 1870 :

"The wisest course, in my opinion, will be to ask the Dominion Government to withhold the application of the federal tariff of customs to British Columbia for a fixed period, say, until railway communication shall have been established through the Dominion to the Pacific. Until that takes place British Columbia must continue to occupy a position so isolated and so exceptional as to render the general tariff, however well adapted to the Provinces to the Eastward of the Rocky Mountains, scarcely suited to us. But with the opening of continuous railway communication these exceptional conditions will for the most part disappear. Look, for instance, at California. What a complete revolution the railway has wrought in the condition of that State. The moment the railway was opened California was no longer separated from the great commercial centres of the Eastern States by thousands of miles of sage-bush and desert. It was practically set down alongside of them ; or, to use the words of another, time and space were annihilated, and California became, for the first time, a fitting subject of a common tariff framed at Washington, and enforced throughout the wide-spreading Union. Similar results will be realized in our own case. Upon the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway, British Columbia will practically be set down alongside of the Atlantic Provinces. We get over all constitutional difficulties by approaching the subject in this way. I do not say that the Dominion Government will assent to the proposition to postpone the application of their tariff to this Colony until railway communication shall have been established ; but we will approach them with a much greater show of reason and success in this way than in the other. I shall, therefore, propose an amendment or a recommendation, asking that the customs tariff of the Dominion be not extended over the Colony of British Columbia until railway communication therewith shall have been established. Should this be agreed to on the part of the Canadian Government, it would then become our duty, upon entering the Domision, to remodel our tariff with a view to protecting local industries, on the one hand, and building up our commercial and maritime interests, on the other. Canada might, possibly, sacrifice a little revenue in the first instance, but it would come back to her a hundred-fold in the greatly enlarged prosperity certain to follow. In this way, also, would be presented a living recognition of the necessity for railway communication, if not an incentive for the speedy consummation of that great desideratum. This course which I propose will more fully meet the local necessities of the country, while it will be more acceptable to the people, and, I feel assured, more likely to meet with the concurrence of the authorities at Ottawa. It possesses the advantages of accomplishing more good than can possibly be attained in the way proposed either by the hon. member for Victoria District or that proposed by another hon. member, and, at the same time of steering clear of constitutional difficulties.

If the Hon. J. Robson—we don't say the Colonist—can interpret this extract in any different way from that in which we put it, we shall be happy to give him a place in our columns to do so. In the meantime, we confess to being unable to interpret the Hon. Mr. Robson's motion in the Legislature differently from what we have previously stated. The public are competent judges in the matter, and with them we leave it, with this remark : that whilst the Hon. J. Robson is not reported to have said that Canada would consent to the continuation of the British Columbia tariff after union, he did not say it would not assent—but offered a resolution asking Canada to assent to the continuation of the tariff till the railway was built.

FIRE ALARM.—Yesterday afternoon at one o'clock, an alarm of fire was given from the U. H. & L. Co's bell. The engines were soon out, when it was discovered that a plot of grass had caught fire near the residence of Mr. Hamley, on the Church Reserve. It appears that some workmen were engaged on the ground, when a match was accidentally dropped on the grass, which soon ignited and spread rapidly. At one time Mr. Hamley's residence was in great danger, but, fortunately, the fire was extinguished before it reached the fence.

POLICE COURT.—John Finnerty vs John Sere for an assault. This case was brought up before the Police Court yesterday morning on remand. A cross charge was preferred against John Finnerty and his brother Michael Finnerty by Sere for assault. All the parties concerned in the fracas were bound over in the sum of $500 each to keep the peace for one year, or in default of finding surities to suffer six months imprisonment, Sere was ordered to pay all the costs. Mr. Robertson appeared for Finnerty and Mr. Davie for Sere.

PANTHERS.—Yesterday morning, on the Cadboro Bay road, between the residence of Mr. Pearce and Mr. McLean, Mr. George Harvey, from the Upland Farm, coming to town passed a large panther on the road. The animal did not seem at all nervous, as it was with great difficulty that Mr. Harvey could frighten him out of the road so that he could pass. Farmers had better look after their sheep.

BUSH FIRES.—Parties visiting the country had better be cautious about lighting fires in the bush. A few days ago one was lighted near the residence of Mr. O'Reilly, and if its progress had not been stopped it might have been a serious affair.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY STANDARD.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

Eastern States.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Tribune's Washington special says, the chances now seem to be against the passage of the new apportionment bill this session. The original bill passed by the House was amended by the Senate, and then sent back to the House.

The expected foreign mission appointments were not made to-day. If there was ever any idea of sending Wendell Phillips, it has probably been abandoned.

The talk in White House circles to-day was that Motley's successor will be an ex-Senator from one of the Middle States, against whom there can be no objection whatever, if a change must be made. He was favorably mentioned before selecting Motley.

The Times' special says there is some doubt if Motley will be recalled at all, as a number of Republican Senators urge the President to retain him.

European.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A special to the Herald from London says, the French note to Prussia contained two demands ; one for a disavowal of Prince Leopold's candidacy by Prussia, and the other the withdrawal of the Prince's name in connection with the Spanish crown.

Prussia's answer is expected to-morrow.

Special English Envoys have gone to Ems, Paris and Madrid. The Queen of Prussia has arrived at Ems to use her influence for the preservation of peace.

The army at Paris has received orders to go to Marseilles, and transports at Toulon have steam up ready to sail for Algeria to bring back troops, the special guards de armee, which will be commanded by Marshal Bazaine, with Gen. Carlot de Bezez for chief of staff. The headquarters will be at Nantes. Marshal McMahon has been ordered from Algiers, to take command of the army which is to operate on the Rhine.

Count de Paliko, with other Generals, will act on the Spanish frontier.

The fleet is prepared to transport thirty thousand troops. Their destination is Hamburg and the North Sea.

MADRID, July 12.—A conspiracy has been discovered here, the object of which is to declare Spain a republic. The leaders have been arrested.

DUBLIN, July 13.—Riots are threatened in the north part of the city. The police and troops are concentrating in that quarter.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The Pacific Insurance Company held their annual meeting at noon to-day ; the old Board of Directors was elected with the addition of T. R. Hayes Milton Latham, James H. Goodman to fill vacancies. The body of a German, is supposed from letters found in his pocket to be George Baker, found in the water at North Beach to-day is supposed to have committed suicide, being sick and in want.

Letters received from Arizona says that the Harpending prospecting and mining party, which left here for the new mines, New Mexico, in May, under command of Capt. John A. Curtis, had a fight with a large body of Apaches, about forty miles beyond Tuson. They killed a number of Indians but was compelled to retreat to Florence on Gila river with a loss of wagons, etc. No whites were killed.

Sailed, barkentine Grace Roberts, Port Townsend.

The Brannan Guard, one of the Colored companies of this city, have applied to be mustered into as part of the militia of this State. There were two companies ahead of them, as appears by applications on file, and they would have precedence in any event, but, as San Francisco already has more than her share of militia of the State, an increase is not deemed advisable. None of them will be mustered in at present.

The Board of Health decided, in answer to a communication from Mooney and others, that they have no right to drive Chinese out of the city, as requested; and in the matter of their living in a crowded and confined space the Board has already passed a rule on that subject, and complaints duly made would be attended to.

The Board of Health having granted to the Toland Medical College certain facilities for surgical and medical instruction in the city and county hospitals, find it impossible, during the present season of lectures, to confer similar privileges upon other schools of medicine in this city.

The State of Pennsylvania brings suit against the New Almeda quick silver mining dompany for $26,000 and interest; the amount of judgment obtained against that company in 1867. Also against the Damphin company for damages to the extent of $10,000. The cases are set for trial in the U. S. Supreme Court, which convenes in December next, and the papers served here, on the above companies, by M. Morrison.

Passengers by the Montana hence June 10th arrived in New York to-day.

The Police made this evening important arrests of Chinese counterfeiters of one pound notes of British Australian and Chinese Banks. They had an immense quantity printed from lithograph and extremely well done.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Arrived—Barkentine Emma Auyustres, Columbia river ; schooner Flying Mist, Codiac.

Flour—There is little old except Oregon in the market, quotable at $5 25@5 75 for extra; California brands, $4 62@5 25 for superfine and $5 75@6 for extra; apart from a lot of 1000 pounds in process of shipment to Australia, we know of no demand ; local trade is steady at unchanged rates.

Wheat—old, choice for milling $1 70 ; new $1 70@1 80.

Barley—range for bulk sales is $1 20@$1 32½, though extremes are still $1 17½@1 25 per 100 pounds.

Oats—Consignments can hrrdly be quoted above $1 85@1 90 for choice and from that down to $1 60.

Middlings—The local millers quote feed at $30 and fine at $35 per ton, while lots from the interior sold at a slight discount.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The Orange men, while celebrating the anniversary of the battle of Boyne, at Elmbank, to day, were attacked by 300 Irish laborers, whose anger was aroused by some expressions by the Orangemen, insulting to their nationality and faith. The assailants used stones and the implements with which they had been working. The Orangemen defended themselves with pistols. Thos. Brady was shot in the head and killed instantly ; also John Brady, fourteen years old ; also another man, name unknown. Four others were fatally injured, and large numbers severely wounded. The police force succeeded in quelling the riots. Subsequently, the cars conveying the Orangemen down town were attacked and several persons wounded Thos. Kane was attacked at Central Park by Orangemen and fatally stabbed. The affair created the wildest confusion in the neighborhood. From latest accounts received at police headquarters, it appears the riots had assumed more serious proportions than at first supposed. There are two versions of the origin of the difficulty. Supt. Jourden states that the Orangemen played party tunes, used insulting epithets and finally threw stones at the workmen ; fired several shots before any attack was made upon them. The workmen then assaulted the Orangemen with spades and shovels and every available weapon. The Orangemen were nearly all armed with revolvers. Captain Helm states the workmen were the assailants, and after two or three hundred of them had stormed the park and driven three thousand Orangemen out, the fight was carried on in a scattering manner all over the country. During the skirmish there were over a hundred wounded and several killed. Full particulars cannot yet be ascertained ; three workmen were known to have been killed, and five more were taken to the hospital in an insensible condition. The wounded Orangemen were taken from the field of conflict in carriages. It is impossible to ascertain their numbers, but so far it is believed no Orangemen were killed.

PARIS, July 12—2 p. m.—It is reported that the question at issue between France and Prussia has been amicably adjusted. The Bourz is active ; rents 70 francs 55 centimes.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The occurrence of the National holiday has rendered the past week one of the unusual dullness to California freighting business, all admits that it is the dullest period felt. Rates for freight weak and irregular for California trade; railroad freights have been most active owing to further reduction in rates for some classes of freights. The rates by this route will probably remain for some time as at present are satisfactory to all concerned; war between rival lines, between here and Chicago, and reduction in rates applies to local freights and does not affect goods intended for San Francisco market

Wheat quiet and prices lower. Good brands of flour are in fair demand, prices steady, California quiet at $7 25@8 25.

Barley dull, stocks principally California held at 85@90 cts.

Wools remain quiet except California. In wools there has been quite an active movement at full prices, these wools are eagerly sought for by manufacturers who are using them in place of foreign. Sales of California wool for the week amounts to 475,000 pounds at 22@23cts for burry and 26@31½cts for free of burs. At Boston these wools also in favor sales amounts to 353,000 pounds at 27@35cts, latter being price for choice.

Hides quiet and firm, no California here.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Herald's special dated London, July 12th says the formal withdrawal of Prince Leopard has been telegraphed to Madrid.

Paris special to the Herald says the excitement over the quarrel with Prussia is tremendous on Bourz and Boulevards, and in cafes and clubs betting discussions are going on. Agents are exciting people against Prussia. Military unabated; the fleet is under orders and will be commanded by Admiral De Lagraviere. General De Loy is ready to march on to Luxemburg with an army of sixty thousand men.

The Herald's special from Berlin says the people are aunit in favor of the stand taken by the Government; though stocks are declining the belief is that peace will be preserved.

Washington specials say there is best reason to believe Motley's successor will be ex-Senator Frelinghuysan from New Jersey, and that his name will be sent to the Senate to-day or to-morrow.

Another victim of last nights Irish riot died this morning. Four more is in a dying condition.

The Gold room presented quiet and short day, in consequence of the peaceful tenor of European advices. Money easier. Call loans, 4@5 ; Foreign exchange, weak—long, 7½, short, 10½ ; Government securities very strong, and one quarter higher in sympathy with the recovery of Foreign stocks ; security stocks, strong.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Washington specials says there will be a great deal of work left unfinished by Congress, notwithstanding the rapid progress made during the past week.
